

Nebraska On-Farm Research Network

ON-FARM RESEARCH UPDATE

Could YOU benefit from on-farm research?
Will it work on YOUR farm? Learn from growers participating in the network.

Febr. 13

Hall County
Extension Office located
College Park Campus
Grand Island

Febr. 16

Lifelong Learning Center
Northeast
Community College
Norfolk

Febr. 17

University of Nebraska
Agricultural Research and Development Center near Mead

9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. at all locations. No registration fee required.

Growers who conducted on-farm research will share their results from the 2014 growing season. Field length replicated treatment comparisons were completed in growers' fields, using their equipment providing valuable information.

The Nebraska On-Farm Research Network is a statewide on-farm research program addressing critical farmer production, profitability and natural resources questions where growers take an active role in the research.

To learn more about the Nebraska On-Farm Research Network and how to participate go to:
<http://cropwatch.unl.edu/farmresearch>.

5 Certified Crop Advisor Credits are applied for and pending approval.

Preregistration is requested for meal planning purposes. Call (402)624-8000 or e-mail christina.franklin@unl.edu to register for any of the three sites.

Sponsored by:

In partnership with:

University of Nebraska-Lincoln Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources

Extension is a Division of the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln cooperating with the Counties and the United States Department of Agriculture. University of Nebraska-Lincoln Extension educational programs abide with the nondiscrimination policies of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln and the United States Department of Agriculture.